LoopBuilder, however, is only one of the many new feature enhancements found in Stagelight 2.0.

Stagelight 2.0 introduces its brand new Electro Instrument Series™, native FX and classic features such as Key Lock, the piano that can't play wrong notes. You can easily explore new genres of music, take step-by-step lessons and learn other advanced features and tips all within the app's SongBuilder™ engine. Share your songs with friends and family with Stagelight's one-touch publishing to the cloud and connect with other musicians in the Stagelight artist community. Also, Stagelight 2.0's streamlined interface and optimized touch-friendly editing suite provides an even more intuitive touch screen experience than ever before.

Stagelight's all new in-app store is where you will find professional loops, exclusive bundles and other advanced features to add to your sound library and at a price you will enjoy. Stagelight's in-app store is designed to give you the power to find world-class sounds and features you want, when you want them and without ever having to leave the app. This is where you will find exclusive content from Open Labs partners Timbaland and Linkin Park.

All of these enhancements come with a smaller footprint, faster load time and added performance making Stagelight the most desirable music creation app available for mobile and desktop PCs.
